Cast Bronze Gutter Brackets

Generally, gutter brackets should be no more than 36 inches apart. Included with each bronze gutter bracket are all the fasteners required to fasten the bracket to the structure and the gutter. This may include 1/4"x4" stainless steel lag screws to bolt into rafters, or 5/16"x2" lag screw if bolting into a 2x fascia.

Finishes for Cast Bronze Gutter Brackets

Unfinished - The bronze may be left bright to age and patina very similar to pure copper. Bronze castings are an 85% copper alloy. While the alloy in its unfinished form initially looks more brassy than pure copper, after a few months outdoors the finish will look almost identical to the finish on pure copper. Finished - A brown bronze finish, scratched to bring forth bright highlights, and waxed; or copper plated at perhaps an extra cost.

Cast Bronze Downspout Brackets

Brackets may be custom ordered for special corner configurations.

Brief Ornate Bronze Bracket Installation Instructions:

Ornate bronze downspout brackets have a fastening system that blends in with the bracket form and surface. (The following procedure doesn't apply to the Moderne style downspout brackets, which are more easily installed with exposed bolt heads.)

Fasten the bracket to the wall with one of three types of bronze fastener combinations. The bronze fasteners are ground flush to the shape of the bracket using a disk grinder. If the bracket has a special finish, then that finish is then applied to the fastener area.

Finishes for Cast Bronze Downspout Brackets

Unfinished - The bronze may be left bright to age and patina very similar to pure copper. Bronze castings are an 85% copper alloy. While the alloy in its unfinished form initially looks more brassy than copper, after some time outdoors the finish will look almost identical to pure copper.

Finished - A brown bronze finish, scratched to bring forth bright highlights, and lightly waxed. Copper plated and other finishes are available at an additional cost.
